PERSPECTIVES: Antoinette Tuff, Hero, Author-In a world where one can't turn on the TV or internet without hearing or reading something that stuns us with the thought of "who could do this sort of thing" or "what is this world coming to" - every now and then a true hero comes forth, like a superhero rising from the rubble. I would like to introduce you to Antoinette Tuff. Your readers should meet this remarkable woman who did something that truly sets her apart - talking a school shooter back from the brink. Not just talking to the shooter, but divulging her personal struggles to the gunman and offering to walk outside with him to surrender so the police won't shoot. Antoinette used empathy, tenderness, and compassion to calm down a mentally ill young man intent on going on a killing spree on a warm summer day this past August in suburban Atlanta - at an elementary school. It could have been another enormous tragedy. But it wasn't. Publicly recognized by President Obama for her courageous act that saved a school from tragedy, and honored by CNN this past week at their annual CNN Heroes Award Gala, Antoinette's story is captivating and one that is worth sharing with your readers. In her upcoming book release, a memoir titled, Prepared for a Purpose, Antoinette shares her story, one that will leave the reader asking themselves "what would I have done in that situation?" Prepared for a Purpose is Antoinette's inspiring true story of faith, courage and compassion in crisis. Antoinette Tuff is a true picture of grace, courage and heroism. But before she made headlines on that fateful day in August, she was a woman who faced and overcame her own pain and hurt.

HEALTH TALK: Thyroid Function Part 2:-Chemicals in the environment can cause thyroid interruption. Fluoride is one of the major chemicals in the environment that causes thyroid interruption. Fluoride is found in most water supplies, and in toothpaste. Our bodies cannot flush fluoride out. The Barnes thyroid test is a quick way to check thyroid status. Use a thermometer first thing in the morning in the arm pit for 10 minutes. This is the basal temperature and should be 97.8 to 98.2. This should be done for a week. If lower than the scale, it could indicate thyroid dysfunction. If higher, it could be a sign of infection. Triclocine is an anti-bacterial found in most hand creams and soaps that are called anti-bacterial. You can limit your exposure by staying away from hand sanitizers and soaps. Triclocine is also an endocrine interrupter. It also messes up hormones in general. Cookware can also lead to thyroid interruption. Non-stick cookware contains chemicals that interrupt thyroid function.

HEALTH TALK: Dangerous Food Mistakes Part 1:Today we are talking about common mistakes people make with their food that can be dangerous. When grilling, be careful with the charred marks. These can cause cancer. Marinating steak lowers the chemical that can be cancerous. Rosemary marinates in particular are protective. Avocado oil can help too, because of its high smoke point. French fried potatoes can be a problem if cooked above 250 degrees. An alternative is to bake them. Commercially produced rice has been shown to contain arsenic. Organic rice avoids this problem. 87% of supermarket meat contains hard to kill bacteria. Organic meats harbor fewer bacteria.

HEALTH TALK: Dangerous Food Mistakes Part 2: BPA is used in linings of canned food. Tomatoes can contain VERY high levels of BPA. BPA can cause high levels of estrogen in humans. This can lead to sexual and reproductive problems. Genetic engineering of plants began back in the 60's and 70's with wheat to increase yields. Chocolate is another area of concern. Chocolate contains PEA's that give the same feeling as falling in love. Organic dark chocolate is the best choice. You should avoid overeating chocolate! Aspartame is dangerous. Stevia is a wonderful alternative. It's naturally produced and contains nutrients.

PERSPECTIVES: Dr. Ann Haight, Aflac Cancer and Blood Disorders Center- The Aflac Cancer and Blood Disorders Center performed it's record 1000th bone marrow transplant highlighting the need for more donors in the bone marrow registry. Every four minutes, one person is diagnosed with a blood cancer. Every 10 minutes, someone dies from a blood cancer. That's more than six people each hour, or 148 people each day. Patients are searching for a cure. It could be you. Be The Match Registry® is operated by the National Marrow Donor Program® (NMDP), a nonprofit organization that's dedicated to creating an opportunity for all patients to receive the marrow or umbilical cord blood transplant they need, when they need it. It is the largest and most diverse donor registry in the world. Our partnerships with international and cooperative registries provide doctors with access to 22.5 million potential donors and 601,000 cord blood units worldwide. Seventy percent of all patients who need a transplant don't have a matched donor in their family. A patient's likelihood of finding a matching donor on the Be The Match Registry is estimated to range from 76-97%, depending on race and ethnicity. Our donor and cord blood registries can only continue to grow if people like you sign up to become a member of the registry or donate your baby's umbilical cord blood. Because of you, more patients will be able to receive a life-saving transplant.

HEALTH TALK: Boost Your Brain Power Part 1: Two things can interrupt brain function, chemical and physical. If a bone moves out of place and causes swelling. This causes a disruption from the brain. Nerves stop receiving messages. Food (chemical) can strongly affect brain function. Curry contains turmeric. This contains an anti-oxidant. It will pass the blood/brain barrier. It can help in prevention of plaque related to Alzheimer's. Celery helps in brain function by reducing inflammation. Choline is a B vitamin that boost cognitive function and helps with brain regeneration. It may help in preventing degenerative conditions later in life. Broccoli is a great source for choline. Walnuts are a great source of omega 3 fatty acids. Blueberries are a good brain food. They are high in anti-oxidants and low in fructose. Coconut oils are a good source of ketones. The body uses ketones for a secondary fuel source for the brain. Gluten will cause serious brain fog.

PERSPECTIVES: WC Benton, President, WC Benton and Associates-For 30 years, international scholar, university professor, and author, Dr. W. C. Benton, and his team at W. C. Benton and Associates have developed hundreds of highly successful business owners as they go Through the Fire to the Wealth. Benton's proven system, formerly offered only to public sector clients at the Entrepreneurial Development Institute sponsored by state departments of transportation, will be available in 2014 to small, middle, big business owners, and would-be entrepreneurs in a one-day seminar in metropolitan Atlanta on January 24. The key to America's economic recovery is new job creation. The truth is that new and young companies and the entrepreneurs that create them are the engines of job creation and eventual economic recovery. The distinction of a firm's age, not necessarily size, as the driver of job creation has important implications. Therefore, it is paramount that those who conceive new products and services and who direct business operations implement the correct business systems to succeed.

PERSPECTIVES: Isabelle Wilkerson, Author –The Warmth of Other Suns-Pulitzer Prize winner Isabel Wilkerson is author of "The Warmth of Other Suns," the New York Times bestseller that tells the true story of three people who made the decision of their lives during the Great Migration, a watershed in American history. The book was named to more than 30 Best of the Year lists. The Great Migration was one of the biggest underreported stories of the 20th Century. It lasted from 1915 to 1970, involved six million people and was one of the largest internal migrations in U.S. history. It changed the country, North and South. It brought us John Coltrane, Thelonius Monk, Toni Morrison, August Wilson, Bill Russell, Motown, Denzel Washington, Michelle Obama -- all children or grandchildren of the Great Migration. It changed the cultural and political landscape of the United States, exerting pressure on the South to change and paving the way toward equal rights for the lowest caste people in the country.

PERSPECTIVES: Clinton Galloway, Activist and author – The Anatomy of A Hustle - When we think of civil rights during Black History Month, our first thoughts are typically of the brave individuals who organized, marched, and fought in the 1950's and 1960's for the cause of full equality under the law in this country. Fifty years have passed since those struggles. Who are the modern civil rights leaders and champions? What are we fighting for today? Clinton Galloway is one person who deserves recognition for his work in championing the rights of minority entrepreneurs. For decades, African-American and Hispanic entrepreneurs were denied access to lucrative business deals with cities and municipalities across the country. Instead, these deals, many of which were meant to improve the lives of minorities in impoverished, urban communities, were typically award to White, well-connected political contributors and wealthy businessmen. Mr. Galloway took his case all the way to the United States Supreme Court and won. His effort ushered a new era and new opportunities for minority entrepreneurs seeking to build businesses owned by minorities in minority communities.
